BAUGHMAN CHAPLAIN LETTER.

All the News Around Baughman Chapel and Union Academy Intelligently Told by T. J. W.

I have thought for some time of writing an article on idle words and wasted time. This is a subject that deserves our consideration and deliberate thoughts. The Word of God teaches us that not only every idle word, but also every idle and wicked thought is merited down against us, and unless we repent we shall be brought to account for the same. We are not held accountable for our misfortunes. I mean things we can't help, but all those idle, cranky, nonsensical words, thoughts and actions that are so often practiced among so many people of today is not only a waste of time, but sinful as well as odious in the sight of God.

If we could only take a view of the precious hours of our lives that has been wasted in this way it would certainly be a rebuke to us. A great deal of idle words are spoken and hours of precious time wasted by the way of argument. Some people delight in argument. They often differ with you if they know you are right, simply for the sake of argument. They conclude that it is a streak of smartness to differ with others, and will talk any kind of talk in order to be counted smart. I say to all those who are trying to devote their time to usefulness to shun the company of such people, or at least always avoid an argument with them. What does it differ if they don't agree with what you say; you never can convince a person of this nature that they are wrong, and it is a perfect waste of time to try to instruct them. The best way to convince the world that you are right is simply to do right. Actions always speak louder than words. So never mind fretting yourself trying to show something notable or noble. God sees every act of our lives, and he is marking them down closer than man, and if anything you do is worthy of note or notice the world will soon find it out; so let us press forward to the mark of our high calling, and always remember that time is too precious to squander.

Let's figure a little on wasted time. Suppose you only spend one hour a day in what we usually call jostling, having fun, if you please to say; cracking jokes, telling big stories, arguing, and many other ways which are usually practiced among us church people. This seems like a very small matter, and we say there's no harm in having a little fun, and there is no harm in having fun and its not a waste of time to have fun if we only will keep idle words out.

But let's sum up this wasted hour a day and see what it amounts to. There are 365 days in a year, which makes 365 hours, which means 15 days and five hours a year. Now, just at this small estimate of wasted time every 24 years you have simply thrown away one, not only in idleness, but also in wickedness. But on the other hand, if we had just spent this one hour a day in the right kind of study, bringing to our mind something noble and good, constantly and gradually growing in grace and in the true knowledge of what makes a man or woman what they ought to be. Oh! what a comfort and blessing it would be to you at your last hours to look back over a life that had been so well spent, and to know that you have not wasted God's time in idleness. After we form our habits for good they come just as natural to us as when our whole souls are wrapped up in the sinful lusts of the world.

It may not be out of place right now, while it comes to my mind, to say that the people are growing better. I mean morally better, and this should be an encouraging thought to every living soul that has a true love for God and his country. There's no doubt but a few may deny this and say that the people are not growing morally better. But, thank God, it's true. I can see it right under my own observation, and can also hear from people who have resolved to live better lives from all parts of the county and towns. I know numbers of men and women of considerable age who have, and are still forming better habits; and our young girls, and especially our young boys deserve a great deal more praise than they get, and I am going to say right now we have the noblest set of boys and young men in my own immediate section that I have ever known. Now boys, this is saying a good deal for you, and for the sake of God, don't betray my confidence. No, I don't believe you will be among these boys. I never see or hear any profanity, drunkenness and playing cards, and many other sinful vices that I could mention practiced among them, and I should further say that very seldom you can meet one who uses tobacco in any shape or form. Now this is true, and I say it with a grateful heart, and it means something and something good, not only for these boys, but for the upbuilding of God's kingdom on earth. So let these words stimulate you, my noble boys, and make you more zealous in your efforts for good, and take this for a text to live by. Duty is yours, and events belong to God. So waste not your precious hours in idle talk. Whatever time you can steal from company and from the study of the world, I say company, for a knowledge of life is best learned in company, employ it in serious reading. Take up some reliable book and continue the reading of it until you have gone through it. Never burden your mind with more than one thing at a time. A little well learned is worth volumes of half study. One of the most important steps in life is to keep good company; and nothing forms a young man so much as being used to keeping good respectable company where constant regard and attention are necessary. It is true this is at first a disagreeable restraint, but it soon grows habitual, and consequently easy, and you are amply paid for it by the improvement that you make and the credit that it gives you. But I will have to stop this subject, as I fear that I have already made it too long, and possibly might become wearisome instead of interesting. In conclusion to this, dear friends, I want to say that I am not writing this for mere past time, or simply to fill up the paper. I want you to cut it out and occasionally re-read it, and ponder it in your hearts, and mark it down for now on, not to waste so much of our valuable time in idle talk.

OTHER ITEMS OF GENERAL NEWS.

The first planting of cotton is coming up nicely. Corn is to a very good stand. There is fruit in abundance.

Messrs. J. E. Long, L. O. Griffin, Redman Kinard and Mr. A. G. Long's children, all of Newberry, spent last Saturday night and Sunday with relatives in this section.

Rev. P. H. E. Derrick preached quite an interesting sermon at Baughman Chapel last Sunday morning to a large congregation. The election of church officers was held, as was

BRONCHITIS

A Disease that is Dangerous.

Vinol's Great Value in Such Cases.

When we talk to a man who has bronchitis, it is unnecessary for us to enter at any length into symptoms.

Our experience has been that sufferers from this trouble become careless. After a time they believe it is a misery they must endure. That is not the case. Many of our friends who will read this will agree with us that it was a good thing for them when they followed our advice and took Vinol. It is indeed wonderful how quickly this modern scientific preparation completely overcomes this disagreeable and dangerous disease.

We wish more of our friends and citizens who suffer from bronchitis, or, in fact, from any throat or pulmonary trouble, would come to us. It would give us pleasure to devote our time in explaining how Vinol cures all such diseases; in fact, any disease that has a tendency to deplete the system. The following letter on this subject is surely of interest:

"For five years I was troubled with a terrible cough and bronchitis. I tried a great many different preparations without getting relief. I could not sleep and I became so weak I could hardly walk, and all this time I was coughing day and night. Then I took Vinol. What a God-send that first bottle was! I had not taken half of it before I noticed a change for the better. I took four bottles in all, and now the improvement in my condition is most encouraging. I no longer cough, and I feel stronger and better than I have for a long time. Miss ANNA RAY, Bangor, Me."

When you call on us, we will give you many other facts fully as interesting as the above. You will thus see why we have such faith in Vinol, and why we never hesitate to refund to anyone the cost of Vinol, if we fail to benefit them.

stated in my last letter, and the result was as follows: For elders, S. J. Kinard, W. M. Bobb, G. S. Livingston, M. L. Kinard, Deacons, B. M. I. Livingston, A. B. Piester, R. N. Taylor and J. D. H. Kinard. The regular times for preaching are on the second Sundays at 3:30 p. m.; on the fourth Sundays at 10:30 a. m., and remember the hours for Sunday-school are just one hour earlier. Whatever you do be punctual; always be in time for Sunday school. It is very discouraging to the teachers for about one half of the class to come when the lesson is about half over.

Union Democratic club met last Saturday at 2 p. m. and reorganized in obedience to the general call, and elected the following officers: President, M. M. Long; vice-president, W. F. Enlow; secretary and treasurer, M. L. Strauss; member county executive committee, J. Kinard Epps; registration committee, L. I. Feagle, Geo. S. Enlow and M. L. Long, Jr. Delegates to county convention, Thos. J. Wilson, L. I. Feagle and Thos. L. B. Epps.

I want to make a suggestion to the members of the convention, and especially to the members of the county executive committee. It seems to have been the idea of the last executive committee to put things on a primary pretty generally, or at least it looked that way to us when they made it compulsory on the magistrates, of whom some only receive the pitiful sum of $25 a year, to go before the people. If they continue to require those small officers nominated by the people how would it do to bring in the keeper of the county home and the boss of the chaingang? They both receive pretty good salaries and hold very important positions. Understand, we are not complaining. T. J. W.

The Gingerbread Man.

BY EVA RICKMEYER ROWLAND,

Humpty, dumpty, dicky dan,
Sing hey, sing ho, for the gingerbread man!
With his smile so sweet, and his form so neat,
And his gingerbread shoes on his gingerbread feet
His eyes are two currants so round and black;
He baked in a pan lying flat on his back;
He comes from the oven so glossy and brown,
The loveliest gingerbread man in town!

And why is his gingerbread smile so sweet?
And why has he shoes on his gingerbread feet?
Because—he is made for my Teddy to eat.

MOTHERHOOD

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

145 Market Street, April 14, 1901. Memphis, Tenn. I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Theodore's Black-Draught. I had been married fifteen years and had never given birth to a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am mother of a fine baby girl which was born March 31, 1901. The baby weighs fourteen pounds and I feel as well as any person could feel. Now my home is happy and I never will be without Wine of Cardui in my house again. Mrs. J. W. C. SMITH.
